In this Wiki Guide Puntation: 0% Rank: Correct answer: Dead Island tutorial/strategy guide/Faq Corey Feldman Tutorial interview after choosing his character, ends in his hotel room. Use the left thumb to move and the right thumb to look. Tell the bath to obtain a medium medkit. Look your mini-map. The white points tell you about you must go, so you will tell the door and give it. In the hall, go to the left first, in a nearby room. Here will find some things to open and loot. Look at this game of "exploring and looting." It will benefit greatly when finding more and more articles in the places outside the road. Now follow the white points, checking the luggage as you advance for more articles. When he reaches the end, enter the room on his left and turn on his flashlight. The acono that appears shows how much energy remains in light. However, it is recharged, so that it simply apostates when you do not need it. After eliminating articles, use the door next door. It is blocked, so you will have to cross it. Keep pressed on the right thumb and a line will start moving up and down. Push up the right thumb when the line is in the middle of the big bar to make the greatest day. Keep doing this until you open the door. Continue until it reaches a double doors game that sweeps from the other side. Will have to go out to After the short scene, see the axis of the elevator and open the hatch on the Go up and another scene appears. Kagn to get out of the elevator once the doors open. Over time it will turn right and go through a hall. Little after doing this, however, zombies come from the rooms ahead. Turn around and go back on the other side, through a set of doors that are open. Run far enough to trigger a couple of cutscenos that end this bove. After the cuts, you wake up in a cabin with a lot of other survivors. In the bathroom you will find an energy drink, although it is really unnecessary since you have total health. If you look at one of the boxes near the bed, you will find your first collectible: the Banoi Herald Excerpt #1. There is a woman named Jeannine talking to a guy called Wayne near the exit. If she passes her, she gives you the next mission. She uses the door and Wayne will find yourself to get several zombies. She uses the right trigger to swing the rowing, and use the left bumper to kick. Kicking has several advantages. To start, do not degrade your current weapon, since you obviously do not use it. It also tends to tear down zombies, where you can keep kicking them until they die. As hard, it does not use resistance, which means that you can simply tire in that boton as much as you want. However, the remote is more dais, and there is no shortage of oars around, so they will have it. If a zombie gets on top of you, you will have to press the left -wing trigger and then the right to get it out. Kill all zombies attacking Sinamoi to finish this bass. Talk to Sinamoi to get this mission. After doing so, remember to put a point in one of his skill. You can also speak with Steven in the back of the cabin for a lateral bust. iomaniS iomaniS a sagell etnemlanif odnauC .sacreca et euq atsah sotreum necerap euq Ãuqa seibmoz sohcum yaH .swolagnub sol a socnalb sotnup sol You will notice a boy, Ted B., in the pool. You can talk to him, but nothing really happens. Inside the Bungalow you will immediately find a zombie. There is a closed door that you need to open. After that, check the bath to obtain a last zombie, then collect the near life card and return to Sinamoi. Do not forget to obtain this bass. It will have to go down the beach to the Torre del Salvador. On your way, you will meet a boy trapped in a truck. He kills all the zombies that surround him and he will leave and take you to the near building. Here will find some bottle and a collectible, but there is also a work bank on the back. Here you can repair and update your weapons, and even build new ones using the appropriate materials. Follow along the beach. No doubt you will find a new type of zombie: the infected. These guys are rosely like hell, but they shout out loud when they see you, so they will know how much you need to start looking around. When you finally reach the lifeguard tower, kill all zombies, but do not use the keyboard that still opens the garage door. Instead, place a propane or two tank in front of the door, and then equates a weapon that does not mind throwing, like a small knife. Now use the keyboard. When the door opens, it will be presented with another new type of zombie: the maton. These guys receive a lot of dais, and they also cause a lot of dava. If they hit you, they will knock you down. Fortunately, they are also very slow. He points to the propane tank that he has placed, and when the Matthew is near him, he would. The subsequent explosion should be sufficient to kill the mat. Now enter the tower. In the garage you will find another work bank. After a while, you should notice an area on the right side of the road with white paving. There are three vehicles here. You can drive one of them, the lighthouse. Once inside, head to the top of the lighthouse and talk to James You can now talk to the people around here for side quests. To move forward with this quest, though, you'll need to talk to Darvin. Once you've completed his quest, the lets you into the "warehouse", which is just a storage room with a Workbench and the signal amplifier. Pick it up and head back to Dominic to finish this quest. A Ray of Hope Talk to around this time, so that it deals with them, and then fill the container. Once it is full, put it in the back of the truck that was in the warehouse (or in its own truck) and take it back to Mike to finish this bass. Everything you have to do here is to bring three cans of food to Sinamoi. You can find Canned Food in bars around the island. There are two bars stations. Tell the first and clear the surrounding spinal. Inside you will find a zombie and a thug. However, they do not seem to be able to get out of the gas station, at least not in my game. If this is the case for you, you can simply be at the door and hit them until they fall. You will say the counter here for the juice box, loading on the back of a and tel the second gas station. Sinamoi sent you to ruin ruin I mean, I don't know. Up there, up the steps. In the courtyard outside the church, you'll see a group of walkers trying to get in and a ram wandering. The Rams are powerful zombies who like to carry you or kick you, doing a lot of damage. Fortunately, this can't leave the courtyard. As soon as you enter the courtyard, you will notice a propane tank on your right. Use it to defeat the Ram (and the other zombies, if you can). When the courtyard is clear, the occupants of the keys and use the control box here to turn off the bells. Also, don't forget to collect the toxic modification plan that is on the desk. After talking to Mother Helen, head to the pumping station. It's pretty far away, so get used to wandering around the streets, pulling out a group after a group of zombies. They also have infected and killed them. If you have nothing to throw into a suicider, remember that you can approach them to activate your "explosion timer," which lasts a couple of seconds before they actually go on. More than enough time to retreat and get rid of the explosion. When you really get to the pumping station, you will face a new kind of enemy: humans. A gang has taken control of the station and are armed. With guns. Hurry to the front door and hit the guy who comes out as fast as possible. Grab your weapon and release the other enemies, including those from the ceiling. Keeping down on the left trigger allows you to point down the eyes, while Press and reload your weapon. Inside the bomb station you will find more bad guns. You'll move through the station for a few minutes killing the enemies. Finally, you leave the station, kill more enemies and la la oserger ed oleugÃS.
